Rescuing Fresh Food For Metro Detroit's Hungry

WITH FORGOTTEN HARVEST

Forgotten Harvest is a food rescue organization — not a food bank. We fight hunger and waste. We rescue fresh, healthy food that would otherwise go to waste from 800 distribution locations like retail grocers, farms, wholesale distributors, entertainment venues and many others. The food is distributed, free of charge, to over 250 agencies and recipients throughout Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.
